

Legal Liability for Logistics Providers

Parsyl offers comprehensive cargo legal liability and warehouse legal liability insurance for clients providing logistics or storage to those within Food & Beverage, Pharmaceuticals or Life Science industries.

Insurance for the foods we eat and the medicines we need

Parsyl is an insurer focused on essential goods, with up to $55 million in capacity per location.

What type of goods does Parsyl cover?

We cover fresh, frozen, bulk, temperature controlled, ambient, or anything in-between.

Not sure if it's within our appetite? Essential supply chains are broad, from seafood to mosquito nets! We like the hard commodities going to and from challenging territories. Of course, we also like the easy stuff, too.

The Parsyl Difference

Every logistics operation is distinct. We can customize a solution that fits each client's unique requirements because we understand the products and use proprietary data to enhance our risk selection.

Whether it is a third-party logistics provider or warehouse owner, Parsyl addresses the client's specific needs, ensuring they get the right coverage without unnecessary costs.

Reimagine the claims experience

We believe in a hassle-free claims process. Our approach to claims processing is rooted in transparency and efficiency, with the aim of ensuring that clients receive fair settlements.

And we don't just settle claims—Parsyl utilizes data to help identify areas of risk and make recommendations that help prevent issues from occurring in the future. Improved risk management can lead to lower premiums.

Comprehensive coverage for a wide range of risks

Parsyl's legal liability insurance covers damage to goods in a client's care, custody, or control, including damage to ambient, perishable or temperature-sensitive goods.

Traditional coverage can be supplemented with Errors & Omissions and Equipment Physical Damage if needed.

We provide peace of mind

With our comprehensive coverages, clients can focus on core business activities while knowing they have a financial safety net if needed.

Ready to get started? Talk to a Parsyl representative today at insurance@parsyl.com